

INDIANA STATE UNIVERSITY

Physician Assistant Studies Graduate Degree Program

2020 / Vol. 1, Issue 3

Indiana State University transitioned to online courses in March 2020. During this time, the Admissions Team worked to develop a virtual interview process, and ultimately accepted 30 students for the Class of 2023.

We look forward to matriculating these students in January 2021!

Faculty Spotlight: Brittany Edmondson, FNP-C

Brittany joined the ISU PA Program on August 1, 2020, as our new Clinical Coordinator. She received her bachelors and masters of science degrees at Indiana State University, and has been a clinical instructor in the baccalaureate nursing program at ISU since 2018. Before joining the PA Program, she also worked as a local ortho/trauma nurse practitioner.

Physician Assistant didactic students return to campus fall semester in a hybrid education model, which consists of online and in person lectures and skills/simulations at RHIC. Placements for clinical students have resumed in clinical settings around the country, including in person patient experiences and telemedicine.
