OLLI at Indiana State University

Mission Statement

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute is a forum for adults of all academic and economic backgrounds to learn about a wide variety of subjects they find interesting and engaging. It is made possible by the substantial support of the Bernard Osher Foundation and Indiana State University. These supporters make it possible for OLLI to offer these unique learning opportunities to residents of the Wabash Valley.

Who are OLLI at ISU Members?

Our members come from many different backgrounds with one common purpose: they all want to learn. What each member wants to learn differs, of course, which is why OLLI offers an enormous range of topics. But all of the learning takes place in a setting that has no pressure. That is, without tests, grades, and prerequisites. Also, there is no required homework and every aspect of participation is voluntary! In addition, wherever members get together – in classes, for special events, or at weekly presentations—they can meet new people, enjoy casual conversations, and share their experiences and opinions.

Membership

Best of all, as one member said, “The price is right!” Membership is $40 for one year (September through August) or $20 per semester: Fall (Sept. – Dec.), Winter (Jan. – April), Summer (May – August). Included with OLLI membership are all of the presentations. The cost of special events and additional courses varies. (See “Membership Benefits” for more details)

Membership Benefits

When you join OLLI, you

- Become a part of a vibrant community of engaged and engaging members.
- Can attend weekly, one-hour presentations on a wide range of topics from serious to the humorous and from the vital to the frivolous. (All of these presentations are included with membership.)
- Are able to participate in local and regional day trips that explore our area’s history and natural beauty. In addition, members receive early notice of longer trips in the United States and abroad. (These trips usually have additional fees.)
- Receive weekly email announcements and reminders about OLLI programs as well as community events and ISU programs.
- Have access to non-credit courses short courses taught by community experts as well as faculty from Indiana State, Rose-Hulman and St. Mary-of-the-Woods. The topics are often suggested by the members and include the arts, sciences, history, technology, religion, writing, local and global issues – to name only a few!

OLLI Members Make a Difference

Members of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute don’t just attend programs, they help plan, organize, and lead programs. We have members that volunteer their time to present programs, help create and recruit presenters for programs; as well as, continually recruit new members. OLLI wants to thank our volunteers for making a difference not only for OLLI but for the other OLLI members that reap the benefits of their work. A special Thank You to our OLLI presenters, especially Elmer Guerri for your tireless work over the last year. THANK YOU

Members' Views of OLLI

During the pandemic, I was happy to have a variety of OLLI programs to look forward to via Zoom. But the Big PLUS was seeing people I knew on my little iPad. We saw each other and shared views, laughs, music, while safe in our own homes, in sweats, robes, whatever! I always tried to remember to brush my hair!! YES, I enjoyed those fun and interesting presentations AND kudos to the presenters and Michelle's expertise. My Gratitude to OLLI at ISU.

Judy Mullican

The Pandemic was a really difficult time, and OLLI regularly made things better. The many programs, the huge variety of things, and the human contact (even if it was on Zoom): all were a blessing when we were home and missing our world. And it is so exciting to be able to be actually seeing people, participating in real time programs, and feeling alive and included again!!

Phil Ewoldsen

I've enjoyed so many experiences with OLLI over the past years and have especially appreciated the fact that Michelle and her OLLI staff worked so hard during the pandemic to continue to provide a wide variety of stimulating activities. These enabled us to stay in touch with OLLI friends as well as to be involved with the community and beyond. Connections were made with Kris Kraut at Butler's Pantry for virtual cooking, with Swope Art Gallery for the annual student exhibition, and the Terre Haute Symphony for tours of the orchestra. We were introduced to the ISU Community School of the Arts, through which we brightened a January day painting "Chickadees in Winter". We looked forward to Zoom "Social Hours" and enjoyed a virtual tour of the SPAM museum in Minnesota. A number of us are looking forward to a much anticipated cooking demonstration and dinner at Bar Bosco. These are only a sampling of the programs, classes, and other activities we've been offered through OLLI. I have, and will continue to urge others to take advantage of all the OLLI program has to offer!

Why Donate to OLLI

Why OLLI Members Give

“Donating to OLLI is like making a sound investment in my own future, as well as a way of saying, ‘Thank You’ for the wide variety of experiences OLLI continually offers. OLLI has become an amazing part of my life.” — Judy H.

“OLLI is a shining light in my life. Attend just one class and you’ll see what I mean. I give because OLLI has earned my support many times over.”—Richard W.

The OLLI Annual Fund – Why Is It Needed?

Membership fees cover only a portion of the amount OLLI needs to operate. Your contribution means that yearly membership dues can be kept low as we continue to bring you the high-quality educational programs you’ve come to expect from OLLI. The annual fund accounts for 7% of the overall budget, and plays an important role in keeping the budget in balance. In addition, it meets a key requirement of our endowment from the Bernard Osher Foundation that we engage in fundraising efforts each year.

The Perfect Time to Give

Our heartfelt thanks to all of you who have given so generously in response to our 2020-2021 fundraising efforts. For those still considering a gift, we would like to challenge you to make the same investment in our institute that the Osher Foundation and other OLLI members have done by asking you to contribute to the institute that has become a large part of the lives of individuals in our community. Our goal is to raise $20,000 by August 1, 2022 with fifty percent of our membership contributing. We raised $11,888 in 2020-2021 with thirty percent of the membership contributing.

Four Levels of Wonder

With Dr. Bob Scott

Date: Mondays, September 13, 27 & October 11, 2021

Time: 2 - 4 PM

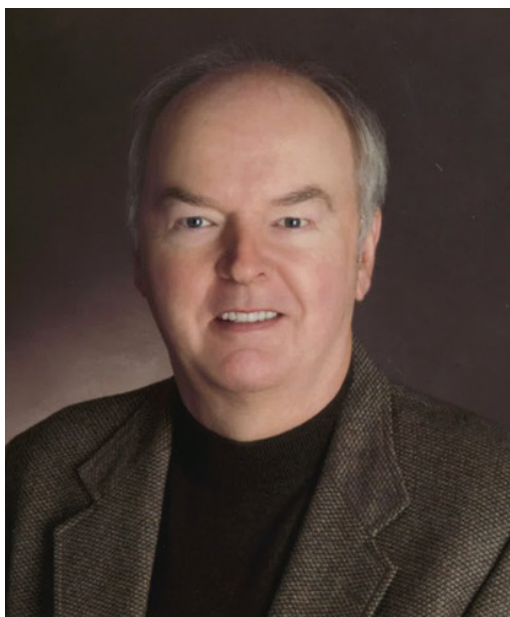

Place: Landsbaum Center

1433 N. 6 1/2 Street, Terre Haute

Cost: $15

Explores the role of inquisitive wonder in helping children discover what's "real". Considers the wonder of worldly uncertainty that we all experience. Touches on how awe can be linked to wonder. Examines the importance of a special kind of wonder as adults ponder "what's next" at the end of life.

Dr Scott is a Terre Haute native who attended Schulte HS, then Vanderbilt University and Vanderbilt Medical School. His career as a physician-scientist (cancer research) started at the National Institutes of Health and included many years at the Mayo Clinic.

A Glimpse at the Great Depression and Dust Bowl

With Michelle Bennett, Program Administrator for OLLI at ISU

Date: Mondays, October 18 & 25, 2021

Time: 2 - 4 PM

Place: ISU, Chestnut Building, Room 107

Cost: $10

The Dust Bowl intensified the crushing economic impacts of the Great Depression and drove many farming families on a desperate migration in search of work and better living conditions. This class serves as a precursor to the Steinbeck Grapes of Wrath Class.

In the first session, Michelle will give a brief overview of the Great Depression and the Dust Bowl for a better understanding of the historical context of the period in which the Grapes of Wrath was written. The second session will feature excerpts from Ken Burns: The Dust Bowl video.

Ken Burns: The Dust Bowl

The Dust Bowl chronicles the worst man-made ecological disaster in American history, when a frenzied wheat boom on the Southern Plains, followed by a decade-long drought during the 1930s, nearly swept away the breadbasket of the nation.

Courses

To Kill a Mockingbird: Revisiting the Book and the Film

With Rob Perrin, Emeritus Professor of English

Date: Tuesdays & Thursdays, October 19, 21, 26, 28 & November 2 & 4, 2021

Time: 2 - 3:15 PM

Place: ISU, University Hall 209

Cost: $20 (book not included)

Harper Lee's To Kill a Mockingbird tells the story of Scout Finch, a young tomboy, whose developing relationships with her father Atticus, her brother Jem, and other assorted characters emerges against the backdrop of a race-related trial in the fictional 1930s Macomb, Alabama.

The novel is more than a book about race, however; instead, it is a book about learning, including both lessons that are actively taught and those that are learned through observation and experience. The richness and variety of these lessons—about family history, region, religion, class, race, gender, relationships, respect, empathy, and honor—make this a novel worth exploring over and over again.

The first three sessions will concentrate on the 1960 novel; in the final sessions, we will view the 1962 film and discuss the ways in which Robert Mulligan transforms the powerful novel into an equally powerful film.

You must purchase the book separately. Any edition of the book is fine, but the larger format editions are easier to read because of better printing and wider margins.

Steinbeck's: The Grapes of Wrath

With Elmer Guerri

Date: Mondays, November 1 & 8, 2021

Time: 2 - 4 PM

Place: ISU, Chestnut Building, Room 107

Cost: $10

Following October OLLI classes describing The Great Depression and the Dust Bowl, two OLLI classes in November deal with John Steinbeck's novels To a God Unknown (1933) and The Grapes of Wrath (1939). The classes examine the sequential and thematic experiences of Southern Plains families forced to abandon their farms and join the migration westward. Participants will study the symbolism and the impact of these two novels. Discussion will include examination of the views of some critics that Steinbeck may have plagiarized portions of The Grapes of Wrath from the works of Sanora Babb, a young lady who, along with her family, experienced the great human diaspora westward, as described in her 2002 book Whose Names are Unknown. Participants will view the 1940 film The Grapes of Wrath.

Participants will be requested to read The Grapes of Wrath. In-depth synopses and reviews of the other two novels will be presented during the class. Reading of the additional two novels by participants is optional.

Courses

Prague: a Little Geography, a Little Mystery, a Little Travel

With Mike Kukral, Associate Professor of Geography at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology, Elmer Guerri & Michelle Bennett

Date: Tuesdays, November 2, 9, & 16, 2021

Time: 2:30 - 4 PM

Place: ISU, Chestnut Building, Room 107

Cost: $15

Join other OLLI members for a three session class all focused on Prague. One session with Mike will discuss the geography and social, economic, and political conditions existing in Prague and the Czech region during the early 17th-century, the period involved in the intriguing 2017 mystery novel Wolf on a String by Benjamin Black.

Another session will be with Elmer discussing the mystery book Wolf on a String by Benjamin Black. Prague, 1599. Christian Stern, a young doctor and student of the occult and paranormal, has just arrived in the city in quest of becoming a member of the entourage of the eccentric and downright weird ruler Rudolf II. On his first evening, he finds a young woman's body half-buried in the snow. The dead woman is none other than the emperor's mistress, and there's no shortage of suspects. Stern is employed by the emperor himself to investigate the murder, plus a second murder that may or may not be connected. Stern finds himself drawn into the shadowy world of the emperor's court – unspoken-of affairs, letters written in code, and bitter rivalries.

The third session will be with Michelle focusing on the sights to see in Prague, sights that play a significant role in the novel. We will view Rick Steves' Europe episode on Prague as well as video on the history and origin of Prague.

This class is part of the programming OLLI is offering in advance of our Danube Explorer Trip in 2022.

See pages 28 & 29 for details about the trip. Deadline to registration for this trip is August 31, 2021.

Courses

Steinbeck's In Dubious Battle and "Was Steinbeck a Plagiarist?"

With Elmer Guerri

Date: Mondays, November 15 & 22, 2021

Time: 10 AM - 12 PM

Place: ISU, Myers Technology Center,
Room 206

Cost: $10

Two classes will examine the 2002 Sanora Babb novel Whose Names are Unknown and the 1936 Steinbeck novel In Dubious Battle. Discussion will pick up following the somewhat abrupt and controversial ending of The Grapes of Wrath. Participants will gain insight into what likely happened to the novel's protagonist Tom Joad as he went off to his life of organizing ill-treated migrant farm workers by studying the experiences of the In Dubious Battle protagonist Jim Nolan. The presenter will discuss adversarial tactics which the presenter observed during his thirty years of experience in dealing with labor-management relations and strife in the North American coal industry during the mid- to late-twentieth century. Participants will view the 2016 film In Dubious Battle.

During the November 22 class, a famous Steinbeck scholar will participate in the session discussing the plagiarism accusations, which she addressed in her newly-released 2021 book. The discussion promises to be an "eye-opener" for participants who may have earlier read any of the Steinbeck "Dust Bowl Trilogy" novels.

Participants will be requested to read In Dubious Battle.

Lilly, Jr., the late Indianapolis businessman, collector, and philanthropist, in 1932. It served as his family’s home until 1965. Today, the first floor of Lilly House has been restored to closely resemble its appearance in the 1930s. The upper level of the Lilly House hosts a variety of events and public programs offering expansive views of Oldfields’ landscape and gardens. The Colored Museum is a 1986 play by African-American playwright George C. Wolfe. Serving as an elaborate satire of the prominent themes and identities of African-American culture, the play is set in a fictional museum where iconic African-American figures are kept for public consumption. Told in a series of eleven sketches, each segment centers on a different "exhibit" in the museum, and serves as a small one-person play or monologue. Exploring themes of racism, stereotypes, intra-community conflicts in black culture, and the ongoing legacy of slavery and segregation, The Colored Museum received overwhelming critical praise for its provocative subject matter and in-depth exploration of the African-American theatrical and cultural past. The Colored Museum has electrified, discomfited, and delighted audiences of all colors, redefining our ideas of what it means to be black in contemporary America. Its eleven "exhibits" undermine black stereotypes old and new and return to the facts of what being black means.

ISU Speaker Series: Ronald Cotton

Date: Tuesday, November 30, 2021

Time: 7:30 - 9 PM

Place: ISU, Tilson Music Hall

Cost: Free

Being misidentified as the perpetrator of a heinous crime is what nightmares are made of. It is a nightmare that became all too real for Ronald Cotton.

In 1984, an assailant broke into the apartment of a young college student, Jennifer Thompson. She was brutally raped. Cotton was first identified as the assailant in a photo lineup and then again by Thompson in a live lineup. He was ultimately convicted and given a sentence of life in prison, plus 54 years. After multiple unsuccessful attempts to overturn his conviction, the Burlington Police Department turned over all evidence for DNA testing. He was cleared of all charges and pardoned in July 1995, after serving ten years in prison.

Upon his release, Cotton and Thompson formed an unlikely friendship, founded on the healing power of forgiveness. Together, they co-authored The New York Times best-selling memoir Picking Cotton—soon to be a major motion picture directed by Jessica Sanders.

Amy Beach was an extraordinary woman. In a time when women rarely considered a music career, Amy was one of the greatest composers in our country. Her “Gaelic” Symphony is filled to the brim with passion, power, beauty and lyrical melodies. We cheered Leo during his last appearance with the THSO. He returns with his wife, prize-winning violinist Soh-Hyun, to play Brahms’ gorgeous Double Concerto, written to repair a strained friendship. It succeeded! Come hear why.
